I think that it is not news that girls love pets. Almost every girl I know has a cat or a dog, sometimes both and not just one. Celebrity girls, for example, Misha Barton has two dogs Charlie and Ziggy and only God knows how many dogs Paris Hilton got. So, when you have your little friends around your house, you want their place be as stylish, fashionable, exclusive and fancy as the rest of your interior, right?!

Well, we are not alone in this search for perfection. Sometimes this search ends up in establishing new business.

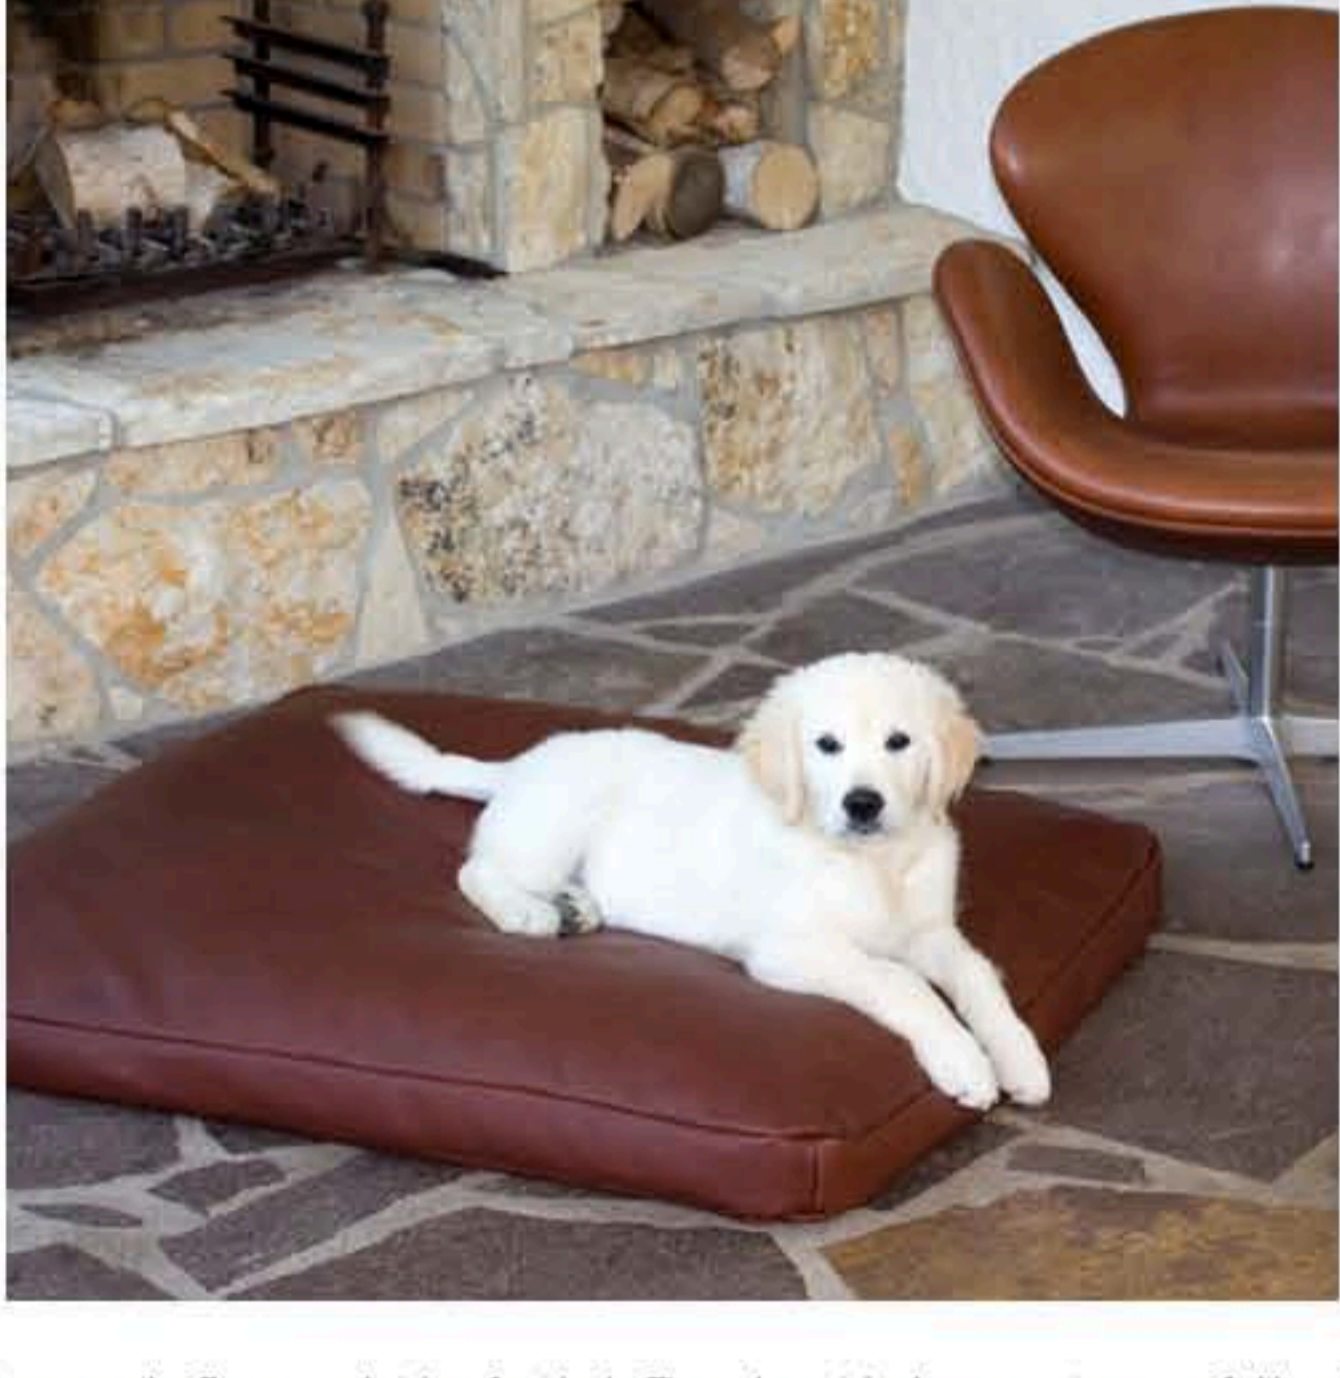

Two German product designers, were looking for handsome products which would suite "Mrs. Schmitt" beautiful cat, but they could find nothing suitable at all. Therefore they decided to design some special cat products and found some handcrafters to realize their ideas. Mrs. Schmitt and all visitors were so pleased with the results that they decided to establish the company pet-interiors to offer these exceptional pet furniture to the public. Because of the great success of the cat-furniture, they soon started a dog collection too.

In addition to creating beautifully designed luxury objects, pet-interiors also creates pieces that have been thoroughly thought-out while keeping the users in mind. One of the design criteria is that cats and dogs must accept a new product, use it, and visibly show how happy they are with it.

Made with only the highest quality materials and craftsmanship, the products are meant to withstand years of use. Everything is manufactured in Germany and made by hand, not assembly line mass-production. This kind of quality and attention do detail undoubtedly results in pet furnishings that can truly be called design objects.

pet-interiors currently offers several styles of pet beds. The various styles have an outer cover of either wicker, leather or felt and have a luxurious inner cushion with a custom high-quality latex filling. The filling was specifically optimized for animals according to specific orthopedic criteria, it is permanently elastic, stable, long-lasting and hard-wearing. All cushion covers are removable and machine washable.

pet-interiors were Awarded the Design Prize of Upper Franconia and nominated for the Design Award of the Federal Republic of Germany. Well, if you are interested in making your pet happy as well as keeping your house nice and chick, you are welcome to visit <http://www.pet-interiors.de> for more information.
